To whom it may concern,

During his stay at PSP Investments, Stewart Hersey had been assigned a wide variety of tasks, from filing to interpreting and re-writing complex technical documents. He accomplished all assigned tasks with dedication and professionalism. Additionally, he was punctual, hard working, and flexible.

Another great characteristic was his ability to understand and communicate in French, which was essential since our working environment is mainly done in French.

PSP Investments would have renewed Mr. Hersey for another contract period to help us organize our documentation, but we needed to hire a DRP analyst and budget constraints did not permit us to carry both contracts.

I fully recommend Mr. Hersey for any documentation-related project or work.
